PINK PARFAIT

DUET (Swim '60)$3.50 each, 3 for $9.20

An easily grown rose with magnificent foliage and an exceptionally strong, sturdy disease resistant plant. The tapering blooms of 30 petals are two shades of warm pink—the outside of the petals being a rosy crimson and the inside a soft salmon pink. The colors hold well in all kinds of weather. Stems are long, sturdy, and are ideal for cutting. This is the 1960 AARS winner! P.A.F.

FASCINATING (Fischer '60)$3.00 each, 3 for $7.95

A vivid color finger painting in reds and yellows! The yellow petals are brushed with red or orange, the intensity and amount depending on the weather. The 25 petals have a unique form and are thick and leathery, with a satin softness. You will find the color and form of this rose intriguing and fascinating! It is a low grower and best planted in the front row where it will be at its eye appealing best. A must for all Bay area rose growers. Truly a delight, especially in the spring and fall. Tea rose fragrance. Plant Pat. 1945.

INVITATION (Swim '60)$3.00 each, 3 for $7.95

All gardeners who like an intensely fragrant rose are cordially requested to plant an INVITATION in their gardens and enjoy the perfume of its bounteous crop of flowers. This is a fool proof rose for the home gardener for it is a sturdy grower and a vigorous plant with good, clean foliage. The salmon-orange buds are a lovely new color in roses and they acquire pink overtones as the flower ages. Stems are long and stiff. This is a truly "cut and come again" variety. P.A.F.

SIMONE (Mallerin '60)$3.00 each, 3 for $7.95

The largest of the lavender colored roses! The immense high centered blooms of 55-60 petals are often six to seven inches across. Simone is a clear pastel lilac to orchid with slight tinges of pink as it ages. It holds its color in the hottest weather. The foliage is heavy and the blooms lightly fragrant. Good for cutting. Plant Pat. 1847.

SUSPENSE (Meilland '60)$3.00 each, 3 for $7.95

The huge brilliant red blooms of Suspense have been the center of attraction all season long in our display gardens. The large buds have a reverse of yellow and as the 55-60 petaled blooms open to flowers often six or more inches across, the yellow is no longer seen. The red velvety flower deepens in color with age and is magnificent when full blown. Plants are tall, sturdy growers with shiny green foliage. Plant Pat. 1944.

PINK PARFAIT (Swim '60)$3.50 each, 3 for $9.20

Pink Parfait buds are just as luscious as the name implies! It is the third grandiflora to win the coveted AARS award! The flowers are a delicate blending of fresh pinks and are produced in such great profusion that there are sometimes more than 100 buds on a mature plant at the same time. The semi-double blooms have high centers and make a splendid mass display in the garden as well as being ideal for arrangements and corsages. Plants are vigorous and heavily foliaged to the ground. P.A.F.

PLANTING AND CULTURAL HINTS

Open package as soon as received. If the roots are moist the plants may be planted at once. If, however, they appear dry, soak in water over night, and bury in a trench. Cover with earth and soak thoroughly. In three or four days the bushes will be ready to plant.

Cut off all bruised or broken roots with a sharp knife.

Loosen all labels, so as not to cut into plant.

Select a location free of tree or shrub roots, and exposed to at least half a day of sun.

Dig a hole 18 to 24 inches in depth and width. If soil does not have good drainage, a gravel drain should be provided.

A mixture of 10% peat, 10% rotted manure, 5% alfalfa leaf meal or compost mixed thoroughly with 75% top soil, will give excellent results. If drainage is poor, do not use manure.

Fill the hole half full of the mixture and firm well. Make a cone-shaped mound in center of hole, Fig. 1. Place crown of roots on cone, spreading roots, Fig. 2. Fill in above roots with soil and fill basin twice with water, Fig. 3. After water has settled, remainder of soil may be filled in, making sure the bud union is level or slightly above the level of the ground. In colder regions the bud union should be 2 inches below the surface of the ground. Mound soil temporarily 4 or 5 inches above the bud union to prevent the plant from being dried out by wind, frost heaves, etc., before the new feeding roots are well established. When growth starts on all plants the soil should be removed to just below the bud union. Fig. 4.

All plants are pruned, ready for planting when you receive them. Keep plants well watered all during the growing season.

Should you find a plant that is slower than the others in leafing out, make a frame around it and fill with sopping wet peat practically covering the entire plant. Usually this will bring the plant out of dormancy within 10 to 15 days.

2. Place cut flowers in several inches of very warm water.
3. Give blooms a fresh cut immediately before putting them in the warm water.
4. After blooms have been in the warm water for several hours or after the water has cooled, add more cold water and keep in cool place out of drafts overnight.
5. Flower preservatives such as Floralife and Bloom-life are helpful in prolonging the life of cut flowers.
6. Be sure your containers are immaculately clean.

Mulching your roses will pay big dividends in preventing the soil from drying out too rapidly. Sawdust, ground corn cobs, excelsior, manure, buckwheat hulls, and stones are some of the materials that have been used successfully in various parts of the country. If any of the first three are used, it will be necessary to fertilize with nitrogen more heavily.

Climbers are ideal for a large splash of color on a trellis, a wall, or for covering a fence. Many of them will give you repeat bloom throughout the summer and fall, but nothing like the heavy spring bloom. Ordinarily climbers do not bloom the first year as the blossoms are borne on wood that is two years old. Cutting the dead blossoms off and leaving three or four leaves, as you do on bush roses, will aid in giving better repeat bloom. Climbers should not be pruned the first year in the garden. Pruning may start the second or third year and consists of removing several of the older and woodier canes. You will get more bloom if the canes are trained so that they are parallel with the ground.

The blooms on tree roses are often superior to those produced on bushes. These aristocrats of the garden should be planted at least 5 feet apart for greatest effectiveness. A bush planted between each tree makes an even more delightful planting.
